Spring Millinery.

Lovers of millinery will do well to inspect the new Spring styles now on exhibition at the millinery emporium of Mrs. Corne Watson Baird's store. She has bought an unusually large stock and can suit the most fastidious both in style and price. Her stock embraces every-thing that is new in the millinery line and the ladies of the city and county will not miss it, when they inspect her stock, which is most complete in all departments. Mrs. Baird has an experience of many years in the business and has carefully studied the wants of the people in her line. She has as her trimmer this season, Miss McCullough, of Florida, who is strictly up-to-date in the very latest styles and if you have her to trim your hat, you will get the proper thing to wear. Mrs. Baird has given special attention in the selection of her present stock and it will be an easy thing for the ladies to make a selection at her store.

GRAND OPERA

-The Couried Metropolitan Opera Co., of New York, will play a brief season of opera at Music Hall in Cincinnati, on March 28th. There will be a matinee and evening performance, so that the people residing in the cities and towns near Cincinnati may be able to avail themselves of this rare chance to hear the very greatest singers of the time in operatic roles specially adapted to their talents. All the scenery, costumes, orchestra, and other adjuncts are precisely the same as are used at the Metropolitan Opera House, in New York City. Mr. Conried, the new director of the New York operatic performers, has revolutionized the entire plan of playing and singing operas, with the result that the singers are now presented to the public with adequate surroundings, fresh costumes, fine scenic effects, and a careful consideration of even the minor details. One German and one Italian opera will be given during this engagement. In the afternoon, Gadski, one of the first dramatic sopranos ever heard in this country will appear as Brunehilde, in Wagner's opera of the Valkyr, Madam Gadski will be supported by a magnificent cast—Burgstaller, the ideal Parsifal tenor, Olive Fremstedt, a young american mezzo, Louise Homer, and others. Sembrich will sing the role of Violette in La Traviata at the evening performance and will have the assistance of Dipple, Campanari, Jacoby and others. The prices will be $6 for the season and $4 for the best places, the first 25 rows on the lower floor and 3 in the dress circle (2nd floor). Balance of dress circle, $4.50 for season, $3 for single seats. Best seats in balcony (3rd floor) $3.50 for season, $2 for single seats. Balance of 3rd floor season $2.50, single seats $1.50.
